ACTIVITIES

SENIOR PEP CLUB

The Pep Club is composed of the entire student body. Its purpose is to arouse school spirit. Attending games, cheering at assemblies and holding meetings are among the many activities of the club.

The members sold feathers, pom-poms, megaphones, and programs. They raised the money so that the club might meet its expenses. The Pep Club decorated the stage for the Varsity Ball and purchased the flowers for the queen and her attendants.

Mrs. Campbell, as sponsor, Isabelle Robertson, president; Shirl Boynes, vice president; Beverly Cameron, secretary; and Marion Thomassy, treasurer, have worked diligently to see that the purpose of the club has been carried out.

JUNIOR PEP CLUB

The '59 cheerleaders, dressed in traditional red and white, "strutted their stuff" during football and basketball seasons and at pep assemblies.

Their vigor and enthusiasm have helped to keep high the loyalty and school spirit which are traditions of McDonald High School.

Under the leadership of head cheerleader, Isabelle Robertson, the girls practiced diligently, learning new cheers and perfecting their routines.

Mrs. Campbell, their capable sponsor, has inspired the girls to do their best.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers Club of America, sponsored by Mr. Anestis, helps to prepare its members for their future professional life. Through the club the 20 members have the opportunity to do substitute teaching and to become familiar with the duties of a teacher. In order to be a member of the club, a B average must be maintained.

The officers of the club are Helen Marie Fini, president; Cynthia Hookey, secretary; Edythe Jozwiakowski, vice president; William Tornabene, treasurer; and Mary Beth Hampson, historian.

The projects of the F.T.A. through the year include informal talks given by former members who are now attending college, a trip to the Pittsburgh School of the Blind, a visit to WQED, and a dance.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The Future Homemakers of America had a very successful year. Under the leadership of Miss Ammons, head of the Home Economics Department, the club engaged in numerous activities.

The installation of officers was held early in the fall. The officers are Patty Hart, president; Sally Sawhill, vice president; Cynthia Hookey, secretary; Marianne Siry, treasurer; Virginia Gilbert, historian; and Sandra Hoffman, degree chairman.

The club raised money by selling candy at the home basketball games.

The most important activity of F.H.A. is the annual Mother and Daughter banquet. This event is held each year in the spring. At this time, the daughters honor their mothers.

F.H.A. closed the school year with a picnic held at a nearby park.

The Latin Club had a very successful and busy year. Like many of the clubs of McDonald High School, the Latins raised money for field trips and banquets.

To accomplish this, the club sold stationery and sponsored a dance.

The club went to the Buhl Planetarium to visit the Latin Exhibit in which some of the members had entered an exhibit. They saw a show on the stars in the days of glorious Rome.

The annual Saturnalia, which is a Roman banquet carried out in Roman fashion, was held late in December. The menu is entirely Roman with cheese, olives, bread, and honey. At this time, the new members were welcomed into the club.

This year, the Latins had a mascot. The familiar gentleman is Mucius Scaevola who was a distinguished Roman.

Mrs. Campbell is the sponsor and the officers are James Valentour, president; Thomas Strimel, vice president; Janet Heron, secretary; Isabelle Robertson, treasurer; and Betty Siry, reporter.

PAN-AMERICAN CLUB

The Pan-American Club, sponsored by Mrs. Rosana Campbell, is one of the most colorful organizations in M.H.S. This club does many things to brighten up the school, both in atmosphere and in color.

Through the club, the members are made familiar with the language and customs of the Latin American people. The club meetings are held the first and third Mondays of each month.

The club members had an interesting initiation of the first year students when the first year students were compelled to dress as Spaniards.

This year's many activities included singing Spanish Christmas carols through the halls, the

Another important activity of the club is the writing of letters to high school students in the Latin American countries. This enables the club members to more fully understand the attitudes and customs of their south-of-the-border neighbors. The club also sponsored a very successful dance.

One of the most outstanding events of the year was the field trip to Pittsburgh to see Jose Greco, famous Spanish dancer, and his troupe.

Officers of the club were Dennis Cooper, president; Robert Glass, vice president; Jane Hugh-ey, secretary; Marion Thomassy, treasurer; and Barbara Allison, reporter.

LIBRARIANS

We at M.H.S. were fortunate this year in having a very capable Librarians Club to keep our books in neat and correct order.

With Mrs. Campbell as their sponsor, the girls gave their free periods to serve the students and help them in a wise choice of reading material.

The librarians this year were Sally Sawhill, Rachel Gilbert, Susan Randour, Jane Hughey, Charlotte Markovich, Ada Ann Cooper, Ann Carole Hospodar, Dorothy McDowell, Fayth Fereday, Joyce Daout, Joyce Altieri, Marlene Nea, Ruth Gardiner, Anna Marie Sansone, Joyce Lemon, Virginia Gilbert, Carol Smith.

BAND

Marching with the band were the high-stepping, colorful majorettes. For the first time this year there were eight reserves to assist the eight regulars. Frequent summer practices paid off in the finished performances of the following fall.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Harvey Lederstein, had a very successful year.

Marching at football games and going through the intricate formations worked out by Mr. Lederstein were the main activities of the fall season. Other activities included marching in the Emancipation Day parade and the Hallowe'en parade.

A well-received concert was given at Christmas time. Following the concert, the band had a party for the members of the audience.

The band won the first round of the Forensic Contest by elimination and advanced to the district contest.

"Contrast in Sound" was the theme of the annual spring concert presented on April 17.

Officers elected early in the year included David Pletincks, president; Robert Lamb, vice president; Robert Glass, secretary-treasurer; Beverly Cameron and Ross Sigley, librarians; Dominic Gobeo and James Heron, managers.

The chorus, under the direction of Miss Nancy Stevenson, concentrated on two major performances — a Christmas Cantata and a Spring Concert. Sixteen members of the chorus furnished a musical program for the Woman's Club at the December meeting. The chorus also sang at Baccalaureate and Commencement.

ENGINEER'S CLUB

The Engineer's Club this year upheld its new constitution by insisting upon high academic standards for all members. Those who dropped below a "B" in more than one subject at the close of each six-week period were placed on probation. If the record did not improve by the close of the following report period, membership in the club was terminated.

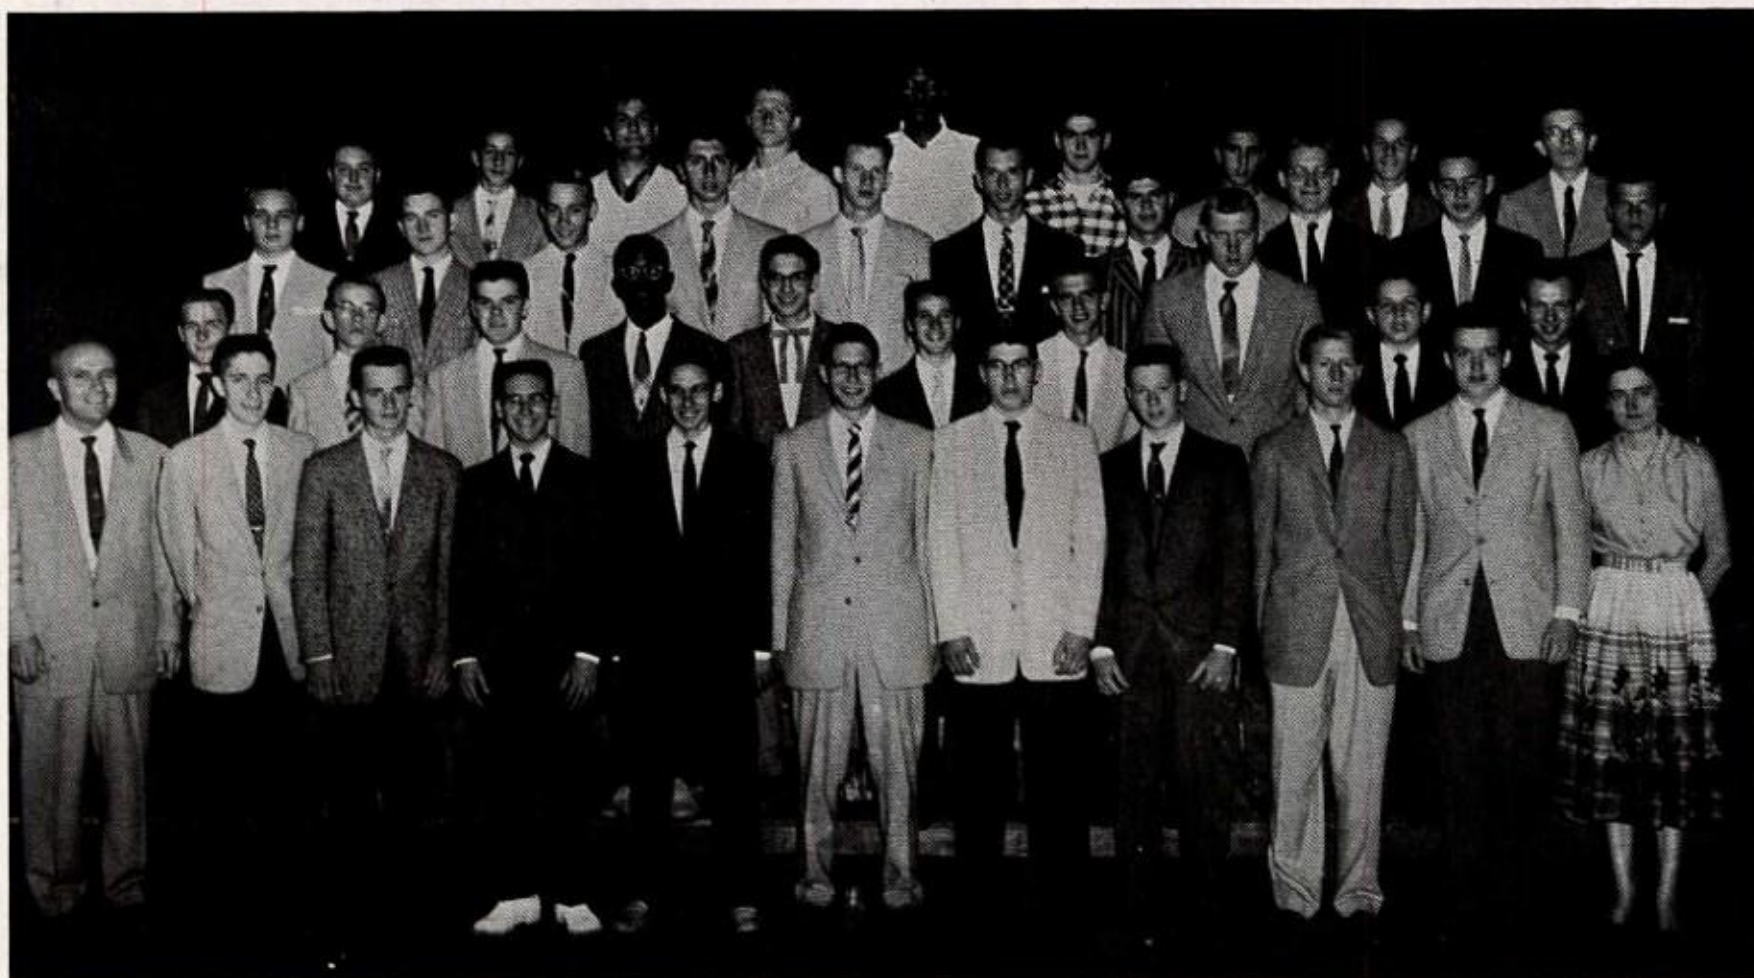

An effort was made to give some training in the social graces and to broaden experiences for the members. An evening of relaxation was enjoyed when a trip was made to Carnegie Music Hall to hear a concert by the world famous guitarist, Andres Segovia. Other field trips included a visit to the Buhl Planetarium to witness the engineering and mathematics displays of the school science fair, and the annual trip to the University of Pittsburgh Engineering Open House.

For the school open house displays the boys divided into committees. From the work of these groups, nine very colorful projects were constructed and displayed for viewing, each representing a phase of engineering. The group leaders rated their members according to initiative, co-operation and quality of work.

CHRONICLE

"Which column do I have?" "Who has club news this time?" "Now remember everything must be in and typed ready to go down to the 'Record-Outlook' Wednesday after school."

These were familiar questions and comments heard by the Chronicle staff, which is also known as the Journalism class. Somehow the editor, David Pletincks, who was ably assisted by Mary Beth Hampson and Ross Sigley, always managed to see that enough material was written, typed and sent down to the "Record-Outlook" on time.

Publishing the Chronicle gave the staff experience in composition, sharpened its contacts with the public, and its business ability. In spite of all the financial headaches, the bills have all been paid, thanks to the advertising staff, headed by William Hyser, and his assistants, Meade McKee and Thomas Strimel.

The other staffs included the editorial, whose members, in addition to the editor and assistant editors were: Elizabeth Siry, Marianne Siry, and Helen Marie Fini; circulation, headed by Shirl Jean Boynes, assisted by Virginia Gilbert; business, headed by Gary Augustine, assisted by Carole Montgomery and Joseph Almady; art, headed by Robert Stone, assisted by Myron Schwab; Girls' sports, Joyce Lee; and boys' sports, Robert Bastide.

The Chronicle staff would like to extend a sincere thank-you to the businessmen of McDonald and surrounding communities for their co-operation and patronage, for without their help the '59 Chronicle would not have been possible.

LAUREL

The Laurel this year, as every other, was the product of hard work and the co-operation of all the committees; but unlike other years, its 1959 creators had a special assignment. Since the 1959 Laurel would be the last, it had to be a Laurel that could bring the old halls of M.H.S. to life again simply by turning its pages.

The editorial staff, with David Pletincks as editor, was responsible for all the cutting, mailing, pasting, writing, and in general the composition of the book.

The advertising staff, finding its job much more difficult than in the past, solicited ads which was a major project for raising funds.

The art staff did the sketches seen throughout the book.

The business staff took the lead in raising money and soliciting subscriptions.

The circulation staff distributed the finished Laurels.

The sports staff compiled the statistics and other information concerning sports.

The graduating class would sincerely like to thank the advertisers and patrons for their contributions toward making the 1959 Laurel a success, and last but by no means least, we would like to thank Miss Kirk for her patience and time.

KEM KLUB

The Kem Klub, which was not organized until the second semester, chose for its officers James Valentour, president; Victor Mazzocco, vice president; and Janet Heron, secretary-treasurer.

Meetings were held every two weeks during the class period. At many of the meetings, chemical experiments were performed by members of the club. Incidentally all the experiments were successful with the help of Mr. Blockowicz, the club's sponsor.

Among club activities were a field trip to Buhl Planetarium and a record hop ending a short but successful club year.

The McDonald High School Athletic Council concluded its final year of rendering services at McDonald High School. The council was responsible for the advertising of games, providing tickets for the game, buying athletic equipment, sponsoring sports banquets, and providing transportation for away games.

The membership of the organization is comprised of faculty, school board, and senior high representatives. The officers of the organization are

Mr. Earl Cameron, Jr., president; Mr. Louis Thomassy, vice president; and Mr. Benjamin Stasko, secretary-treasurer. The faculty members are Mr. Edward Hepe and Mr. James Garry. Student representatives are Meade McKee, senior; William Tornabene, junior; and Martin Schottenheimer, sophomore.

The Council also held an all-sports banquet this year and bought basketball equipment, presented awards at the Awards Assembly and provided for the care of the football equipment.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The goal of the Lettermen's Club has always been to promote a high standard of sportsmanship and to have good relations with opponents in all athletic events.

Composed of boys who take part in sports activities at M.H.S., this organization is a contributing factor in the successful athletic program of the school.

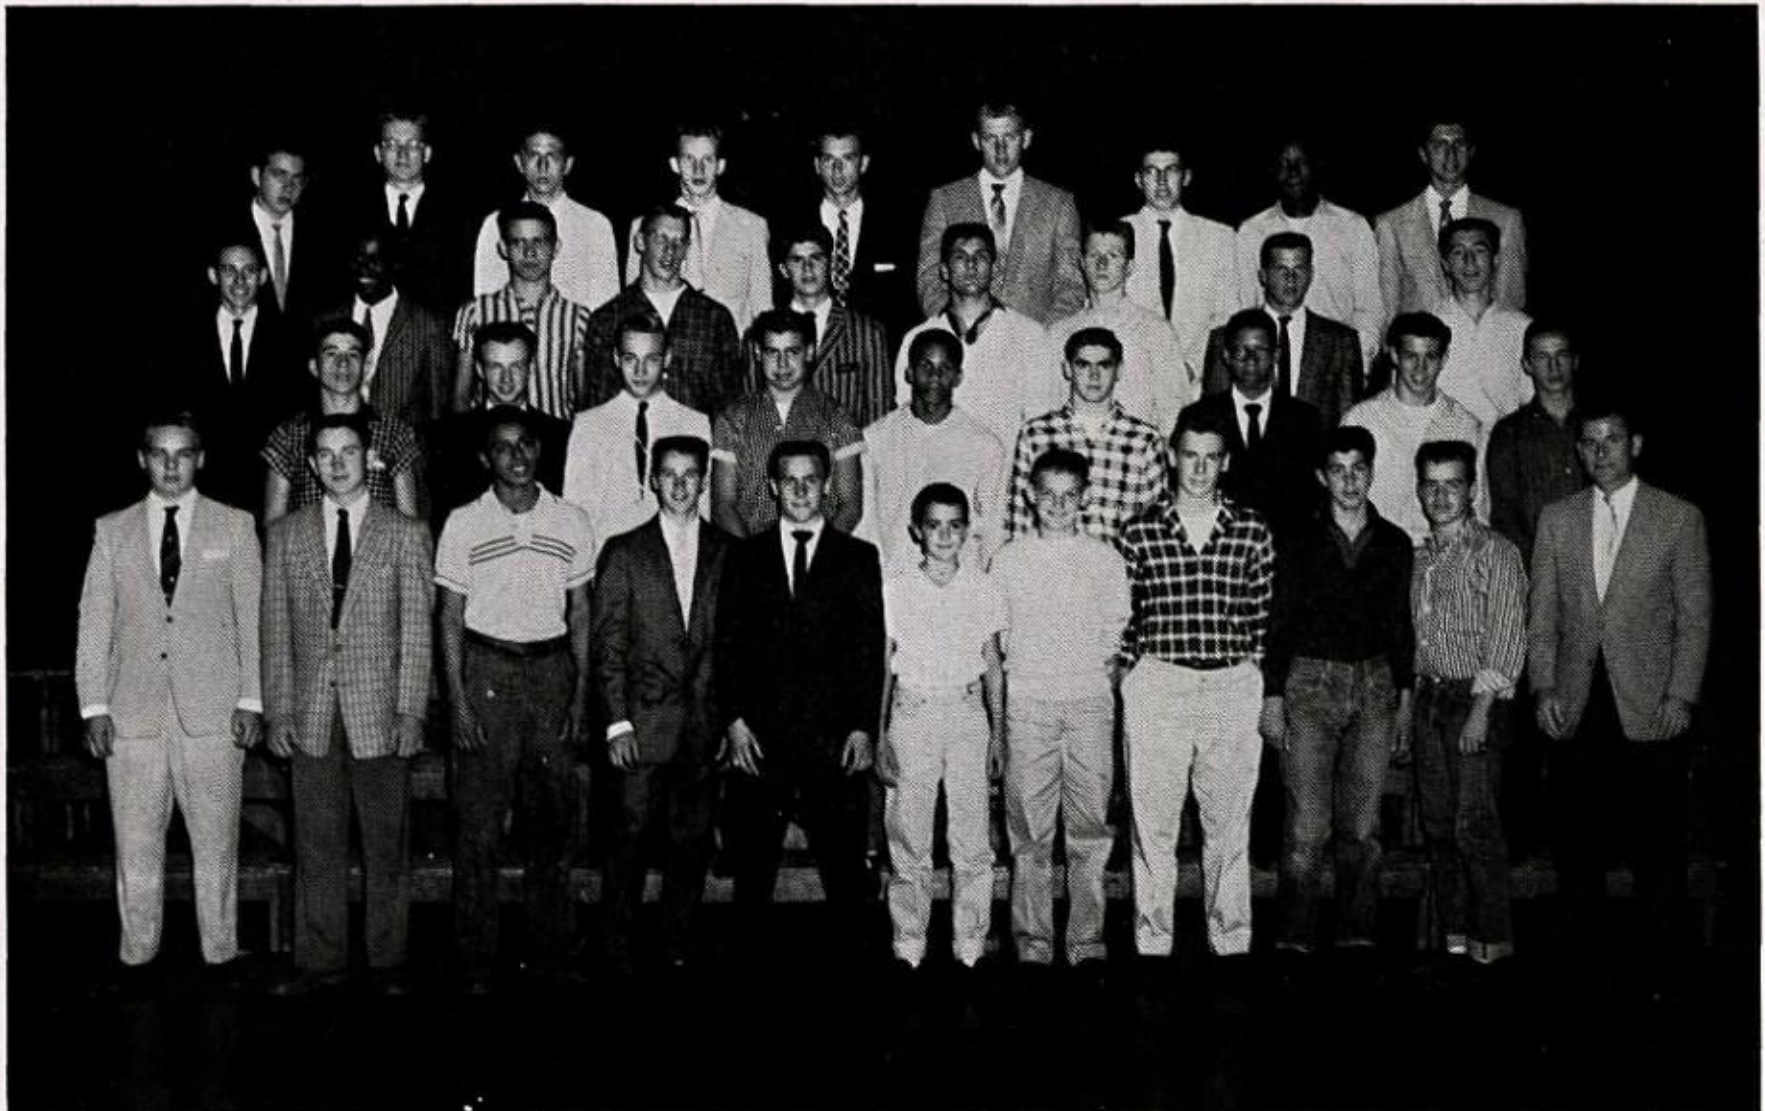

Isabelle Robertson, this year's Varsity Ball Queen, was chosen by the Lettermen's Club. The Club worked hard in decorating for the dance and in contributing to its success.

Dale Miller was chosen as the 1959 athlete of the year. This is another decision made by the club.

The coaches, Mr. Garry and Mr. Hepe, and the members of the club have worked hard for another year so that the club could maintain its chief goal, that of sportsmanship.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

The McDonald Red Devils ended their 1959 season, and the last one for McDonald High, with three wins, four losses and one tie. Mr. Garry was the head coach with Mr. Hepe as his assistant.

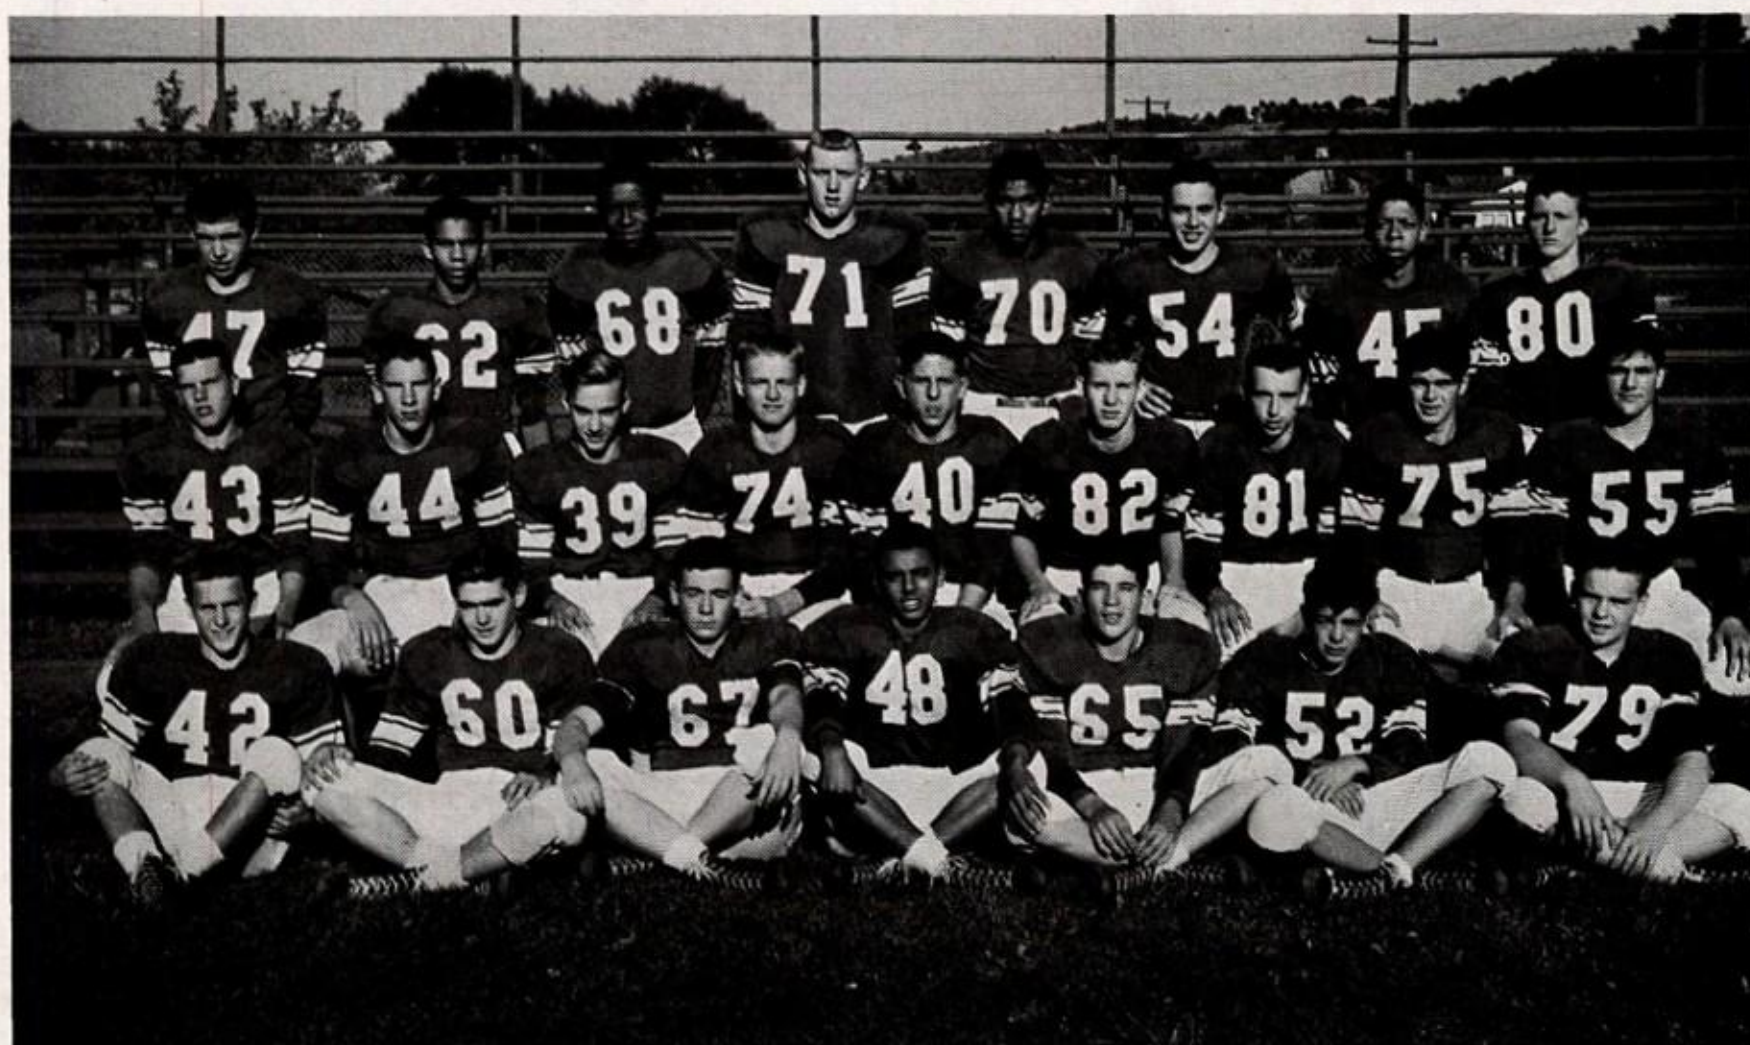

The tie was a 0-0 deadlock with Hickory. The score doesn't tell half the facts of the game because the Devils played good ball but couldn't capitalize.

There were ten seniors on the squad which had what might be called a fairly successful season.

MANAGERS

One of the hardest working and least appreciated groups of boys in any high school is a group of boys better known as managers.

It is the duty of the managers to take care of all sports equipment, line the field for home football games, keep sports statistics and be prepared with the first aid kit.

The managers, who work long and hard during the football and basketball season, are also the object of practical jokes. They take all of the joy when the players are feeling in high spirits and are the center of abuse when the players are feeling low.

These boys, who have a thankless job, deserve a lot of credit.

Varsity Ball

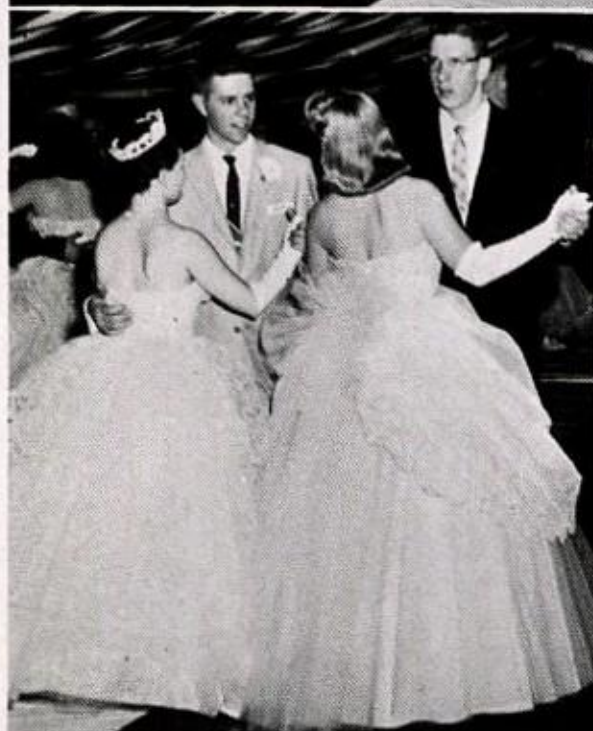

At the sound of marching feet and the appearance of the red and white uniformed honor guard, the 1959 Varsity Ball honoring all sports was under way. This year's ball, the last of its kind, was traditional in its red and white decorations, pretty girls, and regal queen.

Fifteen girls in pastel ball gowns graced the queen's court along with the spirit of M.H.S., the Red Devil, who was Tommy Campbell, and Nancy Cameron carrying the crown, the symbol of royalty.

The queen elect, Isabelle Robertson, was escorted to the throne by honorary co-captain Regis Smith. Meade McKee, also elected honorary co-captain, crowned Isabelle, and for the rest of the evening she reigned as queen of M.H.S.

The beautiful decorations, heavenly music, clicking of cameras, parents' approval and the merriment of the ball all combined to make it a memorable occasion.

Dale Miller is the 1959 winner of the "Most Valuable Player" award given annually by the Lettermen's Club.

Dale, who is vice president of the senior class, has earned two letters in football, basketball, and track. In basketball he was a member of three teams that went into the finals of the W.P.I.A.L. championship playoffs.

He was chosen for this honor not only because he is an outstanding athlete but also because he measures up to the high standards of character, scholarship, leadership, and sportsmanship set by those who have represented McDonald High School in former years.
